However, no reliable information of the annu'al requirement of the Pharmacists in the country and iinnual out-turn of the diploma pharmacists in the country is available. As per the guidelines issued by the Phar-macy Council of India, a person having passed matriculation examination or a secondary school leaving examination wi'h chemistry, physics a.id mathematics is eligible for admission to the two year's diploma course in Pharmacy. A person having higher qualification cm. however be admitted directly ^ the second year of the diploma pharmacy course and as such can qualify diploma after one year of education. The Council has decided, in principle, to fix 45 per cent as the minimum pass marks in the entrance examination as a pre-requisite for admission to D. Pharm course.

According to the available information, the selection of candidates is primarily by merit although it cannot be ruled out that some institutions may be charging capitation fees, tinder the existing provisions of Pharmacy Act, 1948, fne Central Govt. or the Pharmacy Council of India do not have any powers to prevent charging of capitation fees.
